

Professional Development- Population Workshop- Nov. 20, 2015

Kent State Twinsburg Campus
2745 Creekside Dr, Twinsburg, OH 44087

Discover lively, interdisciplinary activities that help students understand the importance of sustainable global citizenship and informed decision making. In this full-day workshop, K-12 educators will engage in role-playing simulations, problem solving challenges, and critical thinking activities to build students' knowledge in math, science, and social studies. All participants will receive our classroom-ready curriculum, which emphasizes hands-on learning and cross-curricular problem solving. All activities are aligned to Ohio's New Learning Standards and the Common Core Standards.
